THE FAITHFUL MOHAWKS

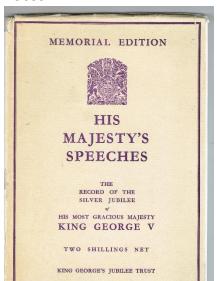

JOHN WOLFE LYDEKKER

FOREWORD BY LORD TWEEDSMUIR

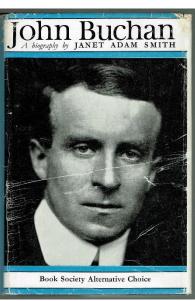

Mr Lydekker has opened an entirely fresh acure of facts about the early colonization of American. The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel (founded in 1701) ent one in fine evengelists to the Inflam three years later and continued to be represented there, thought under difficulties and with occasional interval. The long control of the Lydekker's addition to history. They bring an air of increames and relating to the colonial articipation of the Society is bloom to multiliding and commentation of the Society is bloom to multiliding and commentation of the Society allows in our allithing and commentation of the Society allows in the colonial gard generation of the Society allows in the colonial gard generation of the Society shows in the colonial gardegie in America. The Mohawch were about your turn to their affine and boyed on the alliance, down to Joseph Roson's son, John, who leds his title in the war of title.

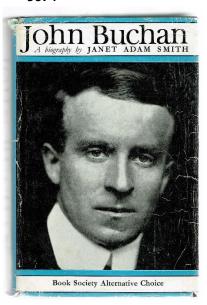

What is left of the matters in now westled on Canadian soil.
